

Why you want to tell your story...

For you...

- To reflect on what has made you who you are, over the years, and record this all in one place
- To tell something that has never been told before, and unburden yourself
- To find your voice...
- To define your own legacy

“Loving ourselves through the process of owning our story is the bravest thing we’ll ever do.”

Brené Brown

For your family...

- To pass on interesting and important information to your family, by putting it all in one place
- To create something in digital format, so it is available to your children and grandchildren in digital format
- To add to family and social history

What you get

You will receive a lovely spiral bound book, which will contain:

Your key details of immediate family tree – grand/parents, siblings, and grand/children (3/5 generations)

A timeline of your life or Transcribed and edited information that you have provided – a high level overview of your life

This book provided digitally on either a USB stick or CD

Your choice to add more:

- Life story or timeline for your partner
- Scanned photos (batches of 6)
- Additional information on major incidents
- A short (5 minute) iPhone video of you speaking about your life, or a message to your family, included on the USB stick/CD
- Additional bound copies (batches of 5)

How it works

I come to your house, and record our conversations.

1. First meeting (1 hour): Confirmation of personal details; agree expectations; book meetings; pay deposit. I provide questions to ponder.
2. Second meeting (1 – 3 hours): We cover timeline, or decades 1 – 3/4; you give photos.
3. Third meeting (2 – 3 hours): We cover decades 4 – 7 or more. I then prepare a book draft and provide it to you to read by the next meeting.
4. Fourth meeting (1 hour): Identify any changes needed to the draft.
5. Book is finalised and presented to you with USB/CD. You make final payment.

Jan Marshall

I have found my creative bent, writing – and have recently discovered the vital importance of recording and telling my own story, even the most challenging parts.

I can now make available for you a chance to use my:

- Excellent listening skills
- Assistance to reveal the source of your true essence for your current and future family to see
- Ability to transcribe and edit your words producing a book, including a digital version to pass down to future generations for all time

You Provide...

1. Personal details for your tree

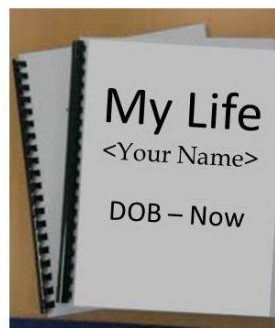

- Parents
- Siblings
- Children

2. For each decade of your life, you share your recollections of:

- ✓ Key happenings/events, that formed or changed you
- ✓ The actions and people involved in this event
- ✓ How these changed or influenced you
- ✓ How does this impact who you are now

NB: You may need to add one or more Major Event (1 hour talking) options to your book package as our discussions evolve.

3. Important photos, in batches of 6, for scanning.
4. What additional items you will need, such as multiple bound copies.

Your Life
